Cook-up a "Best Ever" Christmas Party for your Team!

September 2012: "Yule" be thanked when you cook-up the best ever Christmas cooking party for your team. Create your own restaurant with fantastic food, great music, creative energy and guaranteed fun. It's like a corporate cooking class for Christmas, without the boring bits.

*It was a fantastic night and probably the best Christmas party I've been to, so I've also recommended it to other people! - Andrea Bradley, HR Director, Panasonic

A VictorsFood Ultimate Christmas Party lets your team become in turn, star chefs, service staff, and then customers making, serving and enjoying a restaurant quality banquet of gourmet delights.

This 3-hour party is fully hands-on, totally fun and priced to fit in a stocking. There is no "team building" component, but it's still carefully designed in every detail to fulfil the objective: festive fun! With a money-back guarantee!

No kitchen is needed. VictorsFood set up anywhere – they're totally portable.

Unlike a "cooking class" this is fully hands-on, even the demonstrations! In "short order" you get cooking, assured of success with a VictorsFood Chef at each workstation for personal attention, timely tips and good cheer.

As you complete the cooking, you become "service staff"–breaking down the workstations, setting "long lunch" tables, folding serviettes, "rockin' around the Christmas tree" to great music and creating the ambience with your own style and creativity and a collection of seasonal table decorations.

Finally, experience the “Wow Factor” as “customers” in your own restaurant. Sit and enjoy the fruits of your labours and continue the festive experience over a great meal, while VictorsFood make sure you have enough of everything, with big smiles and great energy.
